

Ms. Linda Copman
AB '83

In the course of her career, Linda Copman has worked as a writer, teacher, county planner, administrator, and consultant. At Cornell, she worked to tell the story of Global Cornell, an effort to internationalize the university and enhance its global presence. She also helped update Cornell's Climate Action Plan and accelerate Cornell's carbon neutral target date from 2050 to 2035. She spent 20 years in Hawaii, working to expand educational opportunities, transition to renewable energy, and promote sustainable development. In all of these jobs, her focus has been on connecting knowledge with people to empower better decision-making.
